Color Superconductivity in Compact Stars

Krishna Rajagopal\textsuperscript{a}

\textsuperscript{a}Center for Theoretical Physics, MIT 6-308A

---

Presented by: Krishna Rajagopal

---

Abstract

After a quick introduction to the phenomena expected in cold dense quark matter, color superconductivity and color-flavor locking, I will describe implications of these phenomena for the physics of compact stars.